Report of Water Commissioners.

When the books closed in 1895 there were seventy-seven different takers of water, and the annual water income was $872.50. During this year the number has been increased to one hundred and three, and the annual income to $1085.50, making a gain in number of twenty-six, and of $213.00 in annual income. The maximum point has not yet been reached, and it may be confidently expected to increase during the year to come, while the running expenses are quite certain to decrease when the work of construction is fully completed.

During the year there have been added to the cost of construction the sum of $741.31 in changes and additions at the pumping station and in the enlargement of the driven well system, where a new line of wells to be used in connection with those now in use is being constructed. We were delayed in obtaining pipe and other materials so that it was not finished in time for use this winter, but will be completed as soon as spring opens and the water drains off the meadow. When these wells are connected, it is expected that our ability to extinguish fires in case of accident to the stand pipe will be materially increased, for in the experiments conducted in the well system during 1894 it was found that the pumps run more and more slowly as the number of wells in use was diminished, and when the number was increased their rate was correspondingly accelerated. It is quite possible, however, that before a perfectly satisfactory result is attained, some changes may be made necessary in the sand chamber, as it is called. When these changes and additions are effected we expect to be able to extinguish any fire liable to overtake us by the use of the pumps unassisted by standpipe pressure.

In keeping the accounts of the construction of the water system and of the expenses of its operation, it has been the practice from the beginning to each year present the several amounts paid and the name of the person to whom paid. Except in the account of 1893 and 1894 there has been no item of interest for the reason that the bond coupons and all other interest items are paid directly by the Selectmen and Treasurer without passing through the hands of the water commissioners. This causes a difference in the statements of the different officers contained in the reports.

From the total expenditures we have from time to time separated the items of running expense so that the cost of the construction of the system might be determined as a basis upon which bonds could be issued in payment. Up to this time as the matter is understood by us the town has never paid for anything that has been purchased or done in the construction or maintenance of the water system, except by borrowing, no money having been raised or appropriated for these purposes by the town at any of its meetings, and, up to this time no taxpayer has ever paid one penny of taxes in consequence of the building of the water system, unless the taxpayers on the line of the system whose valuation have been increased, have paid something. In the plan proposed for the building and maintenance of the system, the design was to issue bonds to defray the cost of building and equipment of the system, which would be a debt and remain unpaid perhaps many years. Then the town should raise an appropriation and pay the same sum annually which it would have to pay if the system were owned by a corporation other than the town. It was expected that this would be done year by year and the excess over the amount required for operating the system and payments of interest on the cost of construction be used to form a fund which should be applied from time to time to the extinguishment of the debt created by the construction of the system.

If this method had been adopted at the beginning or in 1894 we would then have appropriated from the funds of the town and have paid $293.33, in 1895 $920, in 1896 $955, which is the value of the fire protection and public use of the water system to the town up to this time.

Had this been done in 1895 this amount with the addition of the water rates taken would have paid the whole running expense, the interest on the cost of construction, and there would have been a balance to apply to the debt, of $157.17; and had it been done in 1896 after paying the above named expenses there would have been a balance to apply to the debt amounting to $16,250, while the water system should be further credited with the sum of $102.50, now due from water taken but unpaid and which is nowhere included in this amount. Or in other words if the town had appropriated and set aside in the town treasury an amount equal to the amount usually paid for similar service for the two years ending Feb. 15, 1896, and had that been added to it the amount paid to the treasurer for water rates he could have paid from it the entire running expenses of the system, the interest on the cost of construction and there would now be a balance in the treasury amounting to $319.67 to be applied to the reduction of the debt. Some method like unto this should be adopted, it seems, which would easily relieve us from any embarrassment.

The working of the system for supplying water for domestic purposes is all that can be desired. The increase in the income is exceedingly gratifying as well as pleasing to all interested and it all commends the wisdom of the people of the town and the spirit of enterprise which they possess.

The lists and tables follow, all of which is respectfully submitted.

We are pleased to report that there has been during the year marked improvement in the schools. We engaged teachers of experience who had been very successful in thier previous work. Perfect harmony existed between teachers and scholars, almost without exception, consequently the general work was excellent.

We regret that in some instances the parents did not make efforts to have their children attend school with more regularity. Regularity of attendance is of the greatest importance to a pupil's progress. We hope that the time will come when all parents will take such an interest in the schools that they will see that their children are not absent only when absolutely necessary.

After the village schools had been in session a few weeks during the spring term, scarlet fever broke out in the village and the schools were discontinued by advice of the Board of Health. The time lost in the spring was made up in the fall by having an extra term of eight (8) weeks.

Owing to the inconvenience of obtaining water for the intermediate and primary schools the town water was introduced, which has proved to be a material benefit to the welfare of the school.

More money has been expended to conduct the High school this year than formerly, as we wished to bring the school to a higher standard. We are glad to see such an increased interest in the school. At the present time there are forty pupils registered.

The appropriations for schools should be increased so that the school year shall consist of at least thirty (30) weeks. We are now able to have only twenty-three (23) weeks. Also, the schools should be better equipped with books of reference and apparatus.

No town can afford to neglect its schools, nor can it afford not to devise liberal things for their support. The last dollar to be economized is that which gives to the poorest boy or girl free access to the best public education.

During the past few years our common school system has been undergoing severe criticism. Its faults have been magnified, while its points of excellence, not infrequently, have been overlooked. The best answer to these unfavorable comments is to make the public schools the best possible and worthy the patronage of every citizen.
